HONGRONG, MONDAY, JULY 25, 1892.

Tith Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese has been brought very conspicuously before the community during the last few days and a great deal has been said about what the institution has have to wait for an indefinite done, what it is doing and what it is going to do. As to-the future of the College there may be a difference of views, but even the most sceptical people will admit that it has so far proved itself capable of accomplishing the by-no-means-easy task which undertook on its establishment five years ago, namely, that of imparting to Chinese students such a knowledge of western medical science as will enable them to obtain the diploma of the College, which certifies that they are qualified to practise Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery' in accordance with western methods. Another hopeful fact as regards the future is the munificent offer by Mr Belilios to give the College a local babitation of its own, independ ent of the Alice Memorial Hospital, on condition that Government grant a sum of $40,000 as an endowment to the institution. Having these facts in view, Dr Cantlie, the Dean of the College, optimist of the optimists as he is, can hardly be said to have been oversanguine in the excellent address which he delivered on Saturday, although his picture of the future may have been painted on too large a canvas and in colours somewhat too brilliant. It may too much fuse about the result

looming somewhat mythically in the future;' and the red-letter day having at length arrived, a little blowing of trumpets and waving of banners will do the institution no harm. It need hardly be said that the existence of the College is mainly dependent on the voluntary and gratuitous services of those who constitute the Educational Body, services which make considerable demands on the time and attention of the men who render them. If the strength of the teaching staff can be maintained there is no reason why the Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese should not become one of the permanent, as well as one of the most honourable and deserving, institutions of the colony. The manner in which the work of the College has been carried on during the first five years of its existence gives a very satisfactory criterion as to the likelihood of a sufficient number of competent teachers being forthcoming in the future to continue this very praiseworthy. work, in the interests of science and civiliantion, and for the good of suffering humanity, a work which has been so well begun. One of the most important passages in Dr Cantlie's address was that in which he made special reference to the teachers. Of those from whom at the outset assistance in the way of teaching was expected, eight had retired in the course of the five years, and the worthy. Dean referred to ten more as 'missing.' The retirements' seem to have been chiefly of the unavoidable kind. The services of Surgeon-General Lawer and the who were members of the original chemical analyses; so that absolute purity | Educational Body, could not, of course, be looked upon as likely to be permanent; but there was no doubt a hope FOR COAST PORTS. -Waters are that those who succeeded these gentlepacked and placed on Board at Hongkong men here would supply the loss to the to hear, has not been fully realised. Not having been present at the birth and baptism of the College' is no doubt the reason why the successors of those who have necessarily had to retire 'have never taken so deep an interest in its work.' But this is not the chief loss to the teaching staff. The ten 'missing' are described as composed mostly of those who had their names associated with important Chairs for a time, but who, when the hour for lecture came, found that their engagements would not permit of their undertaking the duties." Now this was a loss which could hardly have failed to kill the College in its earliest infancy, but for the energy and determination of those who remained true to it. But even this difficulty has been overcome, and in spite of all the 'disaffection and apathy' Dr Cantlie was able to say with truth- As we look down the list of our lecturers and examiners we may well be proud of the names we contemplate. In the vitality which has enabled it to get over all the troubles and dangers of its infantile years lies the surest hope of a long and presperous career for the College. THE condition attached to Mr Belilios's philanthrophic offer to give a site and erect a building which should be a permanent and worthy habitation for the Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese,-namely, that the Governmen should endow the College with an equivalent sum of $40,000-, if it can be re- pan, and Straits, 831. garded at all as another difficulty,' one which we have no doubt will be been as prosperous now as it was at the time the College was established, we do not believe there would have been any ment grant. But, as His Excellency remarked, 'this is an awkward time to come to the Legislative Council for an endowment.' When it is known that the surplus for 1893 is estimated at only $9,000, the force of Sir William Robinson's remark becomes very apparent. His Excellency, however, has had a good deal of experience apparently in putting right the finances of embarrussed colonies, and he hopes to be able, before he leaves Hongkong, to announce that this endowment has been granted by a willing Legislative Council. It would be very unsatisfactory, as His Excellency's words suggested, to force a vote for such a purpose as this through the Council by menns of an official majority; but, low as the Colonial Exchequer is, we should not necessary to adopt such a course in $2. order to obtain the required endowment. On the other hand, it would be unsatisfactory for the College to time before getting an actual assurance of the grant. The expression of a hope that the endowment will be obtained, or a vegue promise, does not fulfil the condition required by Mr Belilios. would be practically met, however, by the promise of a small annual grant to the institution, until the Government are in a position to ask a vote for the 840,000. This would allow the erection of the College building to be proceeded with at once.

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE FOR CHINESE.

OMNER BY THE DEAN. " On Saturday evening Dr. Cantlie, Dean of the College of Medicine for Chinese, entertained to dinner at Mount Austin Hotel, a number of gentlemen who have been more or less intimately connected veers . More than fifty gentlemen an down to dinner, the Company including-His Excellency the Governor (Sir William Robinson), His Excellency Major-General Digby Barker, His Honour Chief Justice Fielding Clarke (Rector), Mr McLeavy Brown, Mr H. E. Pollock, Dr Alexander Turnbull, Hon, T. H. Whilehead, Hop. J. H. Stewart-Lockhart, Mr. H. L. Dennys, Dr John C. Thomson, Jordan, Mr Hugh McCallum, Mr C. Ewons, Dr Chalmers, Surgeon Major Rubbins, Mr Piercy, Mr Kaw Hong Take, Mr O. H. Simons, Mr W. M. Watson, Mr C. H. Grace, Mr W. E. Crow, Mr Jas. Orange, Mr J. Dyer Ball, Mr W. H. Wickham, Mr E. W. Lucas, Dr Bateson Wright, Mr S. W. Knaggs, &c.

An excellent dinner was purveyed by Mr long toast-list was gone through. The trests of 'The Queen' and 'The Governor' having been duly honoured, The Dean gave the toust of the Army Navy and Reserve Forces. Ho said-L may mention that the order given is not my placing it must have been tampered with, I think, by the authorities, of the Hotel-I have no doubt that my writing was so very had that they mistook, the order which read. Navy, Army, and Reserve Forces I am sure, however, that the representatives of the Navy here to-night will know that the fact of putting the Army before them cannot affect the position of that ancient and gioriousservice. I was told only to put down the Army and Navy, not the Reserve Forces, because there were no Reserve here. I refute that as a member of the Reserve Force of Hongkong (hear, hear). So the Army; the Navy, and the Reserve Forces' is how it stands at the present moment. - In regard to the Army on this occasion it has a very special claim on us because never before have we had an army of our own, and now we can boast of our Hongkong Regiment, which I really think deserves a special toust. I have no doubt that General Bar. ker, who has inspected this regiment, will give us a true and faithful statement in re-Reserve Forces I don't think we need go into just now, because they are in a kind the College of Medicine marched past with doing here?' and we said. I hope that longland and China will be brought into much closer sympathy then by co-operation in the science of war, namely by the hand of science itself. generally (applause.) Hon. J. H. Stewart-Lockhart rose to propose the next toast. He said-Your Excollency, Mr Deau, and gentlemen, I have been entrusted this evening with the toast of 'The College'-a toast which I think in with the College during the past five many respects may be regarded as the toast of the evening. I think it is somewhat unfortunate for the Cullege that the toast has been entrusted to my hands now for the second time. It is an unfortunate fact, gentlemen, but it would be still more unfortunate if the College was an institution which depends upon words more than deeds, but it has shown during five years of silent unobtrusive existence that it is an institution which does not require oratory to advertise it. Therefore, gentlemen, though it is to be regretted that this toast has not been allotted to one of those more accustomed to speak than myself-for a you know the official is a somewhat silent animal in this Colony and the unofficial somewhat more talkative - (laughter)-still as this toast has been entrusted to me, and seeing that it is a teast in which I take the Isherwood, and after dinner a somewhat greatest interest, I will try to do my best, elequence (laughter). I was present at the birth of this institution in 1887. The birth took place in a quiet, uncatentatious manner. It was a birth characterised by nothing eventful. There were not many present, and there was nothing to mark t as the great event it really was. That has been. I think, the characteristic of great births throughout history (laughter). There was nothing at all remarkable in the birth of this institution which to-day has shown us that it is r. markable in itself. In 1887 we all assem led in a demn conclave to do honour to a College called the Chinese College of Medicine. On that occasion the Dean of the College, which had just ome into existence, delivered a lecture which was in itself remarkable, and which until we heard the address of the Dean to-day was, I think, the most remarkable address ever heard in the colony of Hongkong during my experience, extending over 13 years. Up to that time the most remarkable thing in connection with the institution was that address. Well, gentlemen, since that time the institution has been working quietly and uncatentationaly; in fact, I think it would not have been a surprise to many here present to-night if they had been told that the College had ceased to exist, and if they gard to this Hongkong Regiment. The had been asked to describe what the institution was they would have been somewhat vague in their description. However People said, What are these Chinamen he might have done. That perhaps was due to that modesty which is so characteristic of the nation to which he belongs (laughter). Gentlemen, the object of this the Russian Government notifying that College, I take it, is to relieve suffering humanity. That is at any rate the main object and that is the object which the gentiemen associated with it have kept steadily the Russian fleet, which was here at the in view. We have heard something lately. -it appeared in one of the local newspapers It is often complained that the official does -about Hongkong being composed chiefly of worldly people. They recommend that lastead of distributing the Company's wealth in so many different enterprises they should withdraw from the mining business and gradually diminish the scale of their other undertakings. The pumber of mines owned by the Company is almost incalculable, scattered as they are over the whole country. Some of the mines are profitable but others the reverse, and the general resuit is not entirely extistantory to the Company. It is therefore proposed to lovest atmost the whole ospital in the banking business upon the expiration in 1897 of the term of business of the National Banks, establibing branches in all important places in Japan and in various cities abroad in fact to monopolize as far as possible the banking buildess of Japan. We understand that the Portuguese residents of Yokohuma, or at any rate a portion of them, rendered unousy by rumours that the above action was contemplated by the Japanese Government, hele a meeting on the 14th instant, and decided to address a telegram to Macao, promising to follow it by a memorial. It is to be regretted that this action was not taken sooner. The die is cost now, and neither telegrams nor memorials can alter accomplished facts. Similar action has been taken by the Portuguese residents in Kobe.

The vernecular press applauds the step which the authorities have decided to take. Such a step, my the papers, is only just and proper. -- Japan Mail.

FISH POISONING IN CHINA.

The Shaosing correspondent of the Shanghai Merenry writes :- The Governors of Kinggen and of Chekiang have been in communication with each other with reference to the poisoning of the waters of large areas of certain fish-producing districts in their respective provinces. Kinngsu Fetai has just communicated the results of his investigations to his brother official of Chekiang, and the latter has enjoined on the prefect of this city the necessity of at once issuing a stringent and prohibitive ... proclumation, strictly forbidding the practice of such wanton wickedness in the waters of this prefecture. these words were uttered communicated This latter district is a great place for the rearing of a kind of curp and tench, the frame of mind. I must obey the warning spa n of which can never be bred here; it direction whatever the consequences. comes from the lakes and canala border-"Lay aft the watch !" I cried out sharply, ing on the Kiangan province, and although sprang aft and in a moment the driver was the present season is close-time for these, such a large scale is prejudicial to those ant. Put your belm up !" was the next fisheries. This is the economical point of view, but there is a more serious side to be taken into consideration, namely, the was at hand did not wait for further orders danger to human life. Large numbers of people have been affected in an epidemic garnet. As the brig obeyed her helm and manner, and many have lost their lives flow around, the maintail was hauled up, from enting the poisoned fish; therefore severs mensures have to be taken to put stop to this wholesale injury to life and property. I presume there are more haberies in this one province than in the whole of the United Kingdom of Great under the water for a moment, only to rise Britain and Iroland, and although they and bound forward with a cloud of spraymay not have buards of Couservators as ut home, yet the Chinese have something at right angles to the one which we had equivalent, and they have certain by-laws been pursuing, a load seemed to have been which though unwritten, are yet sofficient suddenly lifted from my shoulders, and to regulate the conduct of fishermen, and course I had disobeyed the captain's order to limit the action of the people. And, although there is no penalty of '£2 for the and really had no excuse to offer save one first offence, and 25 for the second, for which I had every reason to expect would taking or selling fresh water fish during be treated as the wild raving of a madman, the close-senson, as at home, yet, it is I did not feel the slightest tremor of hesitasurprising to see as a rale, how offer tually these unwritten by-laws to the fighery districts operate, and attain the same end for which penalties fre imposed in more civilized countries than China !
